

If you enjoy the Royal Edinburgh Military Tattoo, you will certainly enjoy the

Oatlands Highland Gathering
Saturday 5th April 2025 (9.30am to 4.00pm)
Callington Park

The image below shows the local Massed Bands at the Braemar Gathering in Fife Scotland, what a magic sight it will be in Oatlands!

If you have Gaelic, Celtic, and/or Scottish ancestry, join us, after pressing your kilts, tuning your bagpipes, and donning your tartans. Come dressed for the occasion even if you just love the sound of the pipes and drums.

A Highland Gathering links very well to the heritage of Oatlands, given there were various Scottish and Irish Regiments, along with their Pipers and Drummers that called Oatlands their Regimental Barracks throughout the 1800s.

The sound of the Massed Bands playing 'Scotland the Brave', along with the 'Black Bear,' which is the traditional music they play when the Regiments march back to barracks of an evening. I am sure it will bring smiles & great pleasure to the assembled crowds.
